06) Tongue Twister

Write this tongue twister down:

Something in a thirty-acre thermal thicket of thorns and thistles thumped and thundered threatening the three-D thoughts of Matthew the thug - although, theatrically, it was only the thirteen-thousand thistles and thorns through the underneath of his thigh that the thirty year old thug thought of that morning.

With a partner (that means only one other person) practice saying this tongue twister. This is not about speed, but accuracy.
